

To assess the ACGME general competencies, the following evaluation methods are utilized in the NCC Pediatrics Residency program:

| General Competencies | Evaluation Methods | | | | |
|--------------------------------|---|---|--|--|--|
| Patient Care | OSCE | Faculty Observations | Structured Clinical Observations (SCOs); Direct Observation | Procedure Logs | Chart Review |
| Medical Knowledge | In-training exam | Faculty Observations | Rotation specific examinations | Certification in NRP, PALS, ACLS, ATLS, STABLE | |
| Communication Skills | OSCE | 360° surveys by nurses, parents, students and peers | Structured Clinical Observations (SCOs); Direct Observation | Faculty Observations | Chart Review |
| Professionalism | OSCE | 360° surveys by nurses, parents, students and peers | Structured Clinical Observations (SCOs); Direct Observation | Faculty Observations | Attainment of Military Requirements (Physical Fitness, Military Bearing, Proper Wearing of the Uniform, and adherence to the Uniformed Code of Military Justice) |
| Practice Based Learning | Resident Portfolios and Individualized Learning Plans | Medical Record Reviews | Chart stimulated recall | Data on Resident Clinical Effectiveness (Productivity Outpatient Panel Analysis, Continuity, Panel Health Outcomes) | |
| Systems Based Practice | PI projects in continuity clinic | 360° surveys | Summaries of Encounter Coding | | |